

The Sunday Times Concise Crosswords Book 8

INTRODUCTION

60 Sunday Times Concise Crosswords compiled by Barbara Hall for The Sunday Times and published in book form in 1998

FOR THOSE NEW TO THE SUNDAY TIMES CONCISE CROSSWORD

An introduction by Barbara Hall, Crossword Editor of The Sunday Times

FOREWORD

This collection of Sunday Times concise crosswords aims to sharpen the wits, expand your vocabulary, increase general knowledge, but above all to entertain.

The subjects cover a wide range, from the name of the smallest particle imaginable to that of the great white whale.

Can you name a young hare, pigeon, salmon or seal? An edible snail? Which bird lives in a rookery yet isn't a rook?

Can you name the Hindu goddess of destruction, the twin of Pollux, or a loud-speaker used with a woofer? What is Caribbean witchcraft, Japanese flower-arranging, and a Chinese puzzle?

When you've completed these puzzles you'll have all the answers!

Barbara Hall

Enjoy!

David Akenhead, Author of the Computer Crosswords
October 2007

